about

gnash stepped into the spotlight in 2016 with his 5X platinum breakthrough hit "i hate u, i love u," which spent an impressive 39 weeks on Billboard's Hot 100 Chart. To date, the single has accumulated over 2 billion streams and 500 million YouTube views. gnash's message resonates with listeners worldwide and he has built a dedicated fanbase of dreamers. "What's redeeming is that nowadays, when I release a song, an open-minded & constantly growing group of people from all around the world let me know they have felt, currently feel, or will eventually feel the same." gnash has spent the past few years building his name and sharing his story. He has released 5 EP's: "u," "me," "us," "if, and "we"; which serve as a walk through the many ups and downs of his life - from breakups, to finding yourself, to finding something new. He is also featured on acclaimed singer-songwriter MAX's 2x platinum hit "Lights Down Low," which has over 400 million streams; he has performed on The TODAY Show and Late Night with Seth Meyers, and has garnered high-profile features in VOGUE, Billboard, The New York Times and more.

"He can bring out the positivity in just about anything. His live set was an instant mood booster, and by the end, he had the entire audience feeling good."
